

Module description

Module title	PSY-BA-PM-11A: Abnormal Child and Adolescent Psychology
Subject	Abnormal Child and Adolescent Psychology
Associated degree	Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.)
Module coordinator	Prof. Dr. Christina Schwenck Christina.Schwenck@psychol.uni-giessen.de
Frequency and duration	Summer (1 semester course, 1.5h per week)
Language of instruction	German
Examination	Written examination
ECTS	5
Prerequisites	none
Learning outcomes	The students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acquire an overview of psychological disorders which in average begin during infancy and adolescence • Acquire knowledge regarding the differences of the disorders during different developmental stages • Acquire knowledge about the epidemiology, etiology, development and prognosis of psychological disorders during infancy and adolescence • Get an overview of the therapeutic approaches of the child and adolescent psychology and their evidence
Module contents	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Most important psychological disorders during infancy and adolescence • Developmental-pathological aspects of psychological disorders • Similarities and differences of the symptomatic, epidemiology and treatment of psychological disorders during infancy and adolescence • Therapeutic approaches and the concrete implementation in the therapy of psychological disorders during infancy and adolescence • Current research results of the child and adolescent psychology