The University of Lodz was established in 1945 and has long been one of the biggest and most popular universities in Poland. The 12 faculties, and a branch unit of the University provide programmes in 90 fields of study and 160 specializations. In addition, the University offers several doctoral programmes, more than 50 postgraduate study programmes (including an MBA programme, and those financed by the ESF), as well as studies in English, French, German and Spanish. More than 35 000 students attend the University of Lodz. This figure includes students of all levels: those of first- and second level degree programmes, as well as postgraduate, and PhD students. Over 3,500 people work at the University of Lodz. We are a regional leader in the implementation of research projects, especially Horizon 2020.

Supporting innovation

Innovation centre – High-tech accelerator foundation

focuses on support for innovative Polish projects from sectors of advanced technology by introducing modern advisory system, knowledge-base system and help in raising capital funds. The Accelerator supports high-tech projects from all around the country with the particular emphasis on projects bringing benefits for the Lodz region.

The University of Lodz builds a network of partner contacts with other accelerators and academic communities in Poland and conducts research in the scope of new technologies along with a panel enabling their assessment.

The european research programmes are gradually increasing in number. Over 200 research projects have been launched within the frameworks of the National Centre for Research and Development, and the National Science Centre. The University also takes part in over 56 educational projects within, among others, the Lifelong Learning Programme (Erasmus, Tempus, Grundtvig, Comenius, Leonardo da Vinci, Erasmus Mundus, Alfa, Erasmus for Young Entrepreneurs, Health, and Culture). The UL is the leader of the consortium, and a coordinator, with these projects.

We are running international projects in cooperation with universities and other units around the world.

UNIVERSITY OF LODZ

Supporting culture

The University of Lodz is also a hub of cultural life, open to art and activities outside academic concerns. It provides patronage for numerous contests, and takes part in festivals. UL participates in the cultural life of the city and region.

The University actively cooperates with local authorities as well as a variety of institutions and organizations.

It also takes part in countless charitable actions. We are the originators and organizers of the “No flowers, thank you” action, which is about encouraging students to buy special cards, rather than bouquets, as gratitude gifts to their theses supervisors and reviewers. The cards are designed and made by children under the care of the Gajusz Foundation and the HAPPY KIDS Foundation, and the whole income from the cards goes for statutory aims of the charity foundations.

#universitydiversity

There are 95 nationalities currently studying at the University of Lodz – over 2000 international students each academic year. Our University builds academic community around the values of respect for cultural, religious and community identities as well as social sensitivity. UL strives to educate active global citizens who think critically, understand the complexity and the diversity of perspectives which underline the majority of global problems.

University Diversity is a project whose actions take place throughout the year and it aims to:

- raise the level of consciousness of being a part of large international community amongst teachers and students in order to level up the consciousness of one's individual role as a resident of the whole world
- teach academic society and inhabitants of Lodz city a respect to diversity and the ability to communicate with diverse cultures
- maintain integrity of the whole academic society of the University of Lodz

Our activities are appreciated internationally

THE SMARTUNI APP was awarded as the most innovative mobile application by the EUPRIO Conference in Italy. Project „UNIVERSITY DIVERSITY” took 3rd place in the competition for the best academic marketing idea. The award was given by EUPRIO (The Association of European Universities Public Relations and Information Officers).
