Jilin University, China, Macquarie University, Australia and Justus Liebig University Giessen, Germany, mutually declare as parties to this memorandum:

The parties have successfully collaborated on bilateral projects for several years and are convinced of the significant potential that a trilateral cooperation implies. On this basis the parties to this memorandum seek to enhance relations between them by developing a Collaborative Framework to support academic and cultural interchange in teaching, research and other programs, projects and activities.

Within the framework of the regulations and policies applying to each institution, and subject to the availability of resources, the following programs and activities will be encouraged:

- exchange of students and staff
- joint research projects
- joint conferences, working groups, and other academic meetings
- exchange of academic materials and information

Prior to any program or activity referred to in this memorandum is implemented, the parties will negotiate, and enter into binding and formal written agreements with each other. Each agreement will detail the specific form and content of the program or activities, and will outline the rights and responsibilities of each party.

Nothing in this memorandum will oblige a party to or will constitute a representation by either party that it will enter into any agreement with the other parties or will conduct any activities.

The three partners are aware that this memorandum is not a formally legal contract from which legally binding relations, requests, obligations, or consequences can be derived. The purpose of this memorandum is only to express and document the intentions of the parties.

This memorandum becomes effective with the signing of the document by the trilateral parties. The memorandum will cease to have effect if one of the parties provides a notice of termination in writing. The memorandum will remain effective for 6 months after the notice of termination is given.
