Master Economics of Global Risk (Conditional) Admission

Your Admission Letter

There are two possible types of admission to the EGR programme:

1 No admission conditions

You already meet the required Bachelor-level background in Economics and Statistics.

→ Start directly with your EGR Master's courses (Research Project I, Core Module I and Core Module II).

2 Conditional admission

You need additional Bachelor-level coursework in Economics and/or Statistics.

→ Take these courses alongside your Master's studies
→ The exact requirement is stated in GUDE

Not sure which applies to you? Check the conditions section of your admission letter.

Conditional Admission

Conditional admission Master EGR: In the first two semesters, 30 ECTS in the field of economics must be completed additionally. For this purpose, all bachelor's modules from the Department of Economics and Business Studies (FB 02, JLU) with the module code 02-VWL: BSc... and the modules Introduction to Microeconomics and Introduction to Macroeconomics can be taken. (31.08.2024)

Your admission letter tells you exactly how many additional Bachelor-level ECTS you must complete.

Conditional admission Master EGR

- complete the stated ECTS in Economics / Statistics
- within the first two semesters
- in addition to your Master's courses

Example

30 ECTS

= 5 courses × 6 ECTS

English-taught options

There are sufficient Bachelor-level courses taught in English.

Flexible access

Many courses provide online materials or recorded content.

Important deadline

All admission conditions must be fulfilled within the first two semesters.

Check your own admission letter: the required number of ECTS may differ from the example above.
