

Investigating Earlier Spoken English. Papers based on the Old Bailey Corpus

Convenor: Magnus Huber (Justus Liebig University Giessen)

Wed 26th May, 2.00 - 6.15 pm

Provisional program outline

- 14:00 Magnus Huber (Justus Liebig University Giessen, Germany)
Opening of Workshop
- 14:10 Raymond Hickey (University of Duisburg and Essen, Germany)
Irish English and the Old Bailey Corpus
- 14:35 Juhani Rudanko (University of Tampere, Finland)
Tracking and explaining an aspect of the Great Complement Shift, with evidence from the Old Bailey Corpus
- 15:00 Hubert Cuyckens and Christopher Shank (University of Leuven, Belgium)
Change and variation in the OBC: the case of that-clause vs. gerundive -ing clause
- 15:25 Javier Perez Guerra (University of Vigo, Spain)
A trial for the disarrangement of word order in the history of English: insights from the Proceedings of the Old Bailey
- 15:50 Coffee break
- 16:10 Mikko Höglund (University of Tampere, Finland)
Tough-construction in the OBC
- 16:35 Ruth Möhlig-Falke (University of Cologne)
Suffixless adverbs of manner in late Modern English: a sociolinguistic analysis based on the Old Bailey Corpus 2.0
- 17:00 Magnus Huber (Justus Liebig University Giessen, Germany)
Testing the sociolinguistic potential of the Old Bailey Corpus: negative and auxiliary contractions
- 17:25 Esperanza Rama-Martínez and Ana Elina Martínez-Ínsua (University of Vigo, Spain)
Courtroom interaction between 1760 and 1899: on defendants taking (re)initiating moves
- 17:50 Magnus Huber (Justus Liebig University Giessen, Germany)
Closing of Workshop