Consent declaration

In order to implement the principle of data minimization, many SP instead of real names only require SP-specific, persistent pseudonymous identifiers. To implement this, these identifiers are generated and permanently stored by the IDP as part of the login process. By activating the checkbox under this text, you consent to the storage of the information associated with the associated here by IdP. You can revoke this consent at any time by means of a statement to the operator of the IdP, by sending an e-mail to its(at)thm.de. The revocation of consent does not affect the legality of the consent based on the processing carried out until the revocation.

Further information on data protection can be found in the privacy policy.

German as a Foreign Language

Evening Courses A1

The module is designed to acquire German language skills in everyday language and academic contexts at level A1 of the CEFR.

Qualification goals:

- Participants can introduce themselves and others and ask other people questions about themselves: e.g. where they live, what people they know and what things they have - and can answer questions of this kind.
- Participants can communicate in a simple way if the person they are talking to speaks slowly and clearly and is willing to help.
