

Past, Present and Future of International Order

May 6, 2019

University of Copenhagen, Department of Political Science

Øster Farimagsgade 5, 1353 Copenhagen K

Room 4.2.26

Programme

9.00-9.15 Welcome

Balkan Devlen and Anders Wivel

9.15-10.45 Session 1

Cameron Thies: A Role Theory Approach to International Orders: Past, Present and Future

Tonny Brems Knudsen and Cornelia Navari: Power Transition and Institutional Change

Adam P. MacDonald: The Manifestation of Great Power Competition at Sea: The Rise of Exemptionalism

Discussants: Barry Buzan and Ayse Zarakol

10.45-11.00 Coffee break

11.00-12.30 Session 2

Alexander Reichwein: Back to the Future (revisited)? Revisionist states, realist responses, and how to preserve a peaceful European order

Haro L. Karkour: History of the future: liberal modernity and the classical realist critique of the (present) international order

Adriana Cuppuleri: A Neoclassical Realist Approach to Major Powers' Neighbourhood Policy
Discussants: Steven Lobell and T.V. Paul

12.30-13.30 Lunch

13.30-15.00 Session 3

Velina Tchakarova: The Beijing-Moscow Systemic Alliance: A New Mode of Shaping the Global System?

Eleonora Tafuro Ambrosetti: Exporting Populism? Russia as a model for populists

Salih Bicakci: Bending International Order between Data and Artificial Intelligence

Discussant: Ole Wæver, Juliet Kaarbo, Trine Flockhart

15.00-15.30: Coffee break

15.30-16.30: Roundtable 'The Future of International Order'

Participants: Barry Buzan, T.V. Paul, Ayse Zarakol, Steven Lobell, Trine Flockhart, Ole Wæver.
Chairs: Balkan Devlen and Anders Wivel

Open to faculty and students

17:45 Conference dinner at restaurant 'Vækst', Sankt Peders Stræde 34, 1453 København K

UNIVERSITY OF
COPENHAGEN

