

Internship in B2B Product Management (PM) Fruit & Vegetable Ingredients at Döhler

- The location for this job is Darmstadt -

Starting date: 01.09.2026 - for 6 months

A valid student status is required for the entire duration of the internship.

What is Fruit & Veg Product Management B2B at Döhler?

We continuously develop our innovative, competitive and economically sustainable product assortment as well as a strategy for the various product groups (Juices, Purees, Multi Blends...) based on the Business Unit strategy to help improve the profit situation and market penetration in coordination with all relevant Döhler departments.

Your tasks

- You support the Product Managers of the respective Business Unit in various projects
- You support regional teams across the globe in various projects
- You support the team with global market analyses and identification of new business opportunities, using several professional databases and market research tools
- You manage sample orders, organize internal tasting sessions, assist with lab activities
- You compile detailed sensory evaluation reports to support product development and customer presentations
- You create and refine PowerPoint presentations and product factsheets, including technical specifications, for both internal stakeholders and external customers

Your profile

- Your study profile is business related with focus on marketing or food related with a commercial focus
- You are studying in an advanced semester
- You show affinity with new food & beverage trends
- You have a very good command of written and spoken English
- You have very good knowledge of common MS Office applications, mainly Excel & Powerpoint
- You work in a structured and conscientious manner

Your Benefits

- The motivating working atmosphere, of a high-tech, innovative company
- The possibility to realize your own ideas
- The chance of experiencing new ways

Your Contact Person

Please apply online (www.doehler.com) and provide us with your earliest possible entry date. Marie Becker will get back to you as soon as possible. Please take into consideration, that we cannot accept any other channel or send back hard copy applications.