Special Issue “Empirical Studies with Micro-Data from Official Statistics in Germany”

Guest editors

- Thomas K. Bauer, Ruhr-Universität Bochum
- Regina T. Riphahn, Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg
- Joachim Wagner, Leuphana University Lueneburg

Topic

For twenty years the Statistical Offices in Germany offer access to confidential micro-data on individuals and firms in their research data centers (RDC). These data are extensively used by the scientific community for empirical studies in a wide variety of fields. Papers submitted for this special issue should be based on these cross-section or longitudinal micro-data from official statistics. Contributions may deal with, but are not limited to, the following topics:

- Inequality
- Migration
- Health
- Education
- Demographics
- Firm behavior and performance

All papers will be refereed by one guest editor and two anonymous referees. They should be submitted in English to <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jbnst> as Original Article indicating that it is submitted for the Special Issue: Micro-Data from Official Statistics.

If you are in doubt whether your paper might fit into the special issue, please contact the guest editors.
