WHAT YOU CAN AND CANNOT EXPECT TODAY

Digital Research Tools II: Working Effectively with Zotero (ONLINE Q&A) | 23.01.2025 | ONLINE. Register here. Join via WebConf here.

Do you need help navigating the vast amount of literature you're collecting and want to reference in your PhD? Join our Online Q&A with Frank Waldschmidt-Dietz (University Library); this session will provide you with expert advice on making the most of Zotero, a powerful reference management system. Learn how to use plug-ins for automatic metadata collection and integrate Zotero with Word. Please note: it is necessary for the Q&A session that you have already installed Zotero (version 7) on your laptop and have a general overview of the programme. For the required information and how to install Zotero before you attend this online session, please read the section "Zotero basics" here and watch this YouTube Video.

The screenshot shows the Zotero website's 'The Basics' page. The page includes a navigation menu with 'Home', 'Groups', 'Documentation', 'Forums', and 'Get Involved'. The main content area is titled 'The Basics' and contains sections for 'How do I install Zotero?', 'How do I open Zotero?', 'What does Zotero do?', and 'What kind of items are there?'. A red box highlights the 'Table of Contents' section on the right side of the page, which lists various topics and their corresponding links.
